

Simplifying a manuscript is typical for informal casual presentation

This is an epigraph. Some stories, parts, chapters, and even scenes will kick off with an epigraph.

A dreamer is one who can only find his way by moonlight, and his punishment is that he sees the dawn before the rest of the world.
Oscar Wilde, 1888

This document is an example of a typical short story. It has no parts or chapters, just scenes and the title page exists, but is rendered invisible by the 'simple flag. I will create a formal version of my manuscript, then add the 'simple' flag in the classes for #manuscript, generate a PDF or HTML version and share that with folks to review. When I am ready, I remove the simple flag and create the manuscript.
